THE KING'S CUP

CAPT. HOPE WINS EASILY.

Fast Times Recorded.

PRINCE'S MACHINE FINISHES SECOND.

Avro-Mail Plane Returns Best Average Speed.

London, Yesterday. Captain Lawrence Hope, flying a "Fox Moth," won the King's Cup Air Race yesterday with a lap of 23 minutes and an average speed over the two days' course of 1,233 miles of 124.25 miles per hour.

The race was conducted under handicap conditions, and some of the entrants achieved a much higher average speed, among them being the Comper-Swift entered by the Prince of Wales, which finished second. Its average speed was 155.75 m.p.h.

The best time was returned by a scratch machine, an Avro-Mail aeroplane, flown by H. Brown. Its average speed was 167 m.p.h., but it was the last to reach the finishing post.

Capt. Hope, the winner, flew throughout at a speed of 14 m.p.h. faster than that estimated by the handicappers. — British Wireless Service.

BATTLES RAGE IN MANCHURIA.

Ma's Bodyguards in Clash Near Harbin.

10 JAPANESE KILLED; 40 WOUNDED.

Harbin, To-day.

There has been severe fighting in North Manchuria this week-end. The Japanese admit to losing 10 killed and 40 wounded in a ten-hour engagement with a thousand of General Ma Chan-shan's bodyguards at Pailan, sixty miles north of Harbin.

The fighting was indecisive, and may break out again shortly. Several engagements have also been fought near Koshan between Japanese and Manchukuo troops on the one hand, and anti-Manchukuo forces on the other, in which the anti-Manchukuo are reported to have lost heavily. Sixty were killed in one engagement and a hundred in another. — Reuter.

CANTON AGREEMENT REACHED.

General Tsai Ting-kai, Commander of the 19th Route Army, has acted as mediator between General Chan Chai-tong and Admiral Chan Chak and has assisted in bringing them to an agreement.

The agreement has four provisions. First, the 9 companies of marines, at present stationed at Hainan, will co-operate with Gen. Tsai, in suppressing the Communist uprising in Fukien. Hainan will be held by the No. 1 Military Corps under the command of Gen. Tain Kai-shou. The fleet will be returned to the Central government.

Secondly, Admiral Chan is to receive $50,000 to go abroad. This was decided by the South Western Political Council.

Thirdly, the Canton Government is to pay "all back wages due to Navy."

Lastly, the marines who take part in Gen. Tsai's offensive will be paid $10,000 a month for three months, the money to come from the Canton Government.

BRITAIN ELIMINATED IN DAVIS CUP

AUSTIN COLLAPSES AT CRUCIAL STAGE

ITALO-GERMAN FINAL

JIRO SATOH'S AMAZING DECLINE AFTER WIMBLEDON.

Berlin, Yesterday.

Sensational lawn tennis was witnessed here to-day when Germany eliminated Great Britain in the semi-final round of the European Zone of the Davis Cup.

Prenn, the German veteran, who yesterday defeated Austin, beat Fred Perry in a thrilling struggle, whilst Von Cramm, after losing the first set to Austin, won in four sets to provide the biggest surprise of this year's Davis Cup matches.

Full scores were:—

Prenn (Germany) beat Perry (Britain) 6-2, 6-4, 3-6, 0-6, 7-5.

Von Cramm (Germany) beat Austin (Britain) 5-7, 6-2, 6-3, 6-2.

— Reuter.

ITALY ENTER THE FINAL.

Milan, Yesterday.

Italy won a sensational victory over Japan here to-day to enter the Final of the European Zone of the Davis Cup when her singles players brought off the unexpected to win by 3 matches to 2.

Full scores were:—

De Stefani (Italy) beat Kuwabara (Japan) 6-2, 6-2, 6-4.

Palmieri (Italy) beat J. Satoh (Japan) 4-6, 4-6, 6-1, 6-1, 6-2.

— Reuter.

Germany will now meet Italy for the right to play America, the winners of which match will play in the Challenge Round against France in Paris. America is undoubtedly in a very strong position, now that Britain has been eliminated, and are favoured in many circles as the ultimate winners of the Trophy.

"Bunny" Austin seems to have been completely shattered by the heavy defeat inflicted on him by Ellsworth Vines at Wimbledon. He caused Prenn very little anxiety in his first singles match, and then lost ingloriously to Von Cramm when considered a certain winner. It was the vital match of the series and the winner of that match would have the satisfaction of sending his country into the Final. The occasion, however, proved too

LORING LANDS AT MANILA.

Successful Crossing of China Sea.

PIONEER PILOT.

Senor Fernando Rely Loring, the Spanish aviator, made a successful crossing of the China Sea, landing at Aparri, Northern Luzon, P.I., at 1 p.m. yesterday, 7½ hours after leaving Kai Tack aerodrome. Early this morning he landed at Manila.

Senor Loring is the first man to successfully make the crossing direct to the Philippine Islands in a light land plane.

There was a total absence of fuss and bother when the aviator left from Kai Tack yesterday, just as the dawn was breaking, a few Chinese mechanics, giving the machine one last look over.

Those present at the take-off were Flight-Lieut. Moss, Civil Superintendent of the Aerodrome, and Senor J. Gascon, Ch. Gonzalez, de Bernedo, and one or two other well-wishers.

A few minutes of warming up, the motor and a hearty handshake all round, and Senor Loring climbed into the cockpit and was away, just as daylight began to creep over the crest of the hills. Taxiing down the field, he turned the nose of his machine into the wind, the engine burst into a roar, and after a long run, the cream-coloured machine took to the air.

Weather conditions were ideal, and Senor Loring was optimistic of Seven sampan owners were convicted by His Worship, Commander G. F. Hole, in the Marine Court this morning, for lying too close in shore. They were all given a $10 fine or, in default, a week's imprisonment.

NEW OPTIMISM BORN AT LAUSANNE

"WE GOT WHAT WE WANTED" SAYS MR. CHAMBERLAIN

LONDON WELCOMES DELEGATES

KING'S REPRESENTATIVE GREET'S PRIME MINISTER.

London, To-day.

"We have had great success and I think we may fairly say that we have got what we wanted to get," declared Rt. Hon. Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, when he returned from Lausanne to-day. "Reparations have been swept away and we have begun a new era where, I hope, old doubts and suspicions will begin to disappear. We have our feet upon firm ground now, and we will go forward with confidence to attack the problems which will be in front of us."

NEW CONTROVERSY IN IRELAND.

Governor-General Involved.

THREATENS TO RESIGN.

Insulted By Ministers Of Free State.

Mr. De Valera Seeks To Suppress News.

Dublin, To-day.

Release of correspondence between Governor-General McNeill and Mr. De Valera, in which an apology is demanded by the former for a personal affront from members of the Free State Cabinet, has caused a tremendous sensation here.

The letters are concerned with an incident at the French Legation Reception in Dublin on April 23, when two Free State Ministers walked out of the reception room on the arrival of the Governor-General, and made reference to the treatment given the King's representative during the Eucharistic Congress.

The crux of these letters is that Governor-General McNeill threatens to resign unless Mr. De Valera and his Cabinet apologise.

FLIERS UNDAUNTED BY CRASH.

Plan Itinerary For Another Flight.

GRIFFIN'S FACE CUT.

But Mattern Unhurt in Accident.

Moscow, To-day.

The two American airmen, Griffin and Mattern, who were attempting a round-the-world flight when their plane crashed near Minsk on Friday, arrived here to-day by train from Minsk.

Neither was seriously hurt. Griffin was cut about the face, but his companion was only jarred by the impact which utterly wrecked their big monoplane.

When interviewed, they expressed the keenest appreciation of the way they had been treated while in Russia.

They stated that they will remain in Moscow only long enough to inspect the city's great aerodrome and work out a new itinerary for a world flight next year. — Reuter.

TURKEY AGREES TO JOIN LEAGUE OF NATIONS.

Few Important Powers Left Outside Body.

Constantinople, To-day.

Parliament in session at Ankara to-day unanimously agreed to accept the invitation sent to Turkey to join the League of Nations.

Beyond United States and Russia, there are no major powers outside the League's organisation now. Turkey was the third most important nation lacking membership.

HALF WAR LOAN CONVERTED.

Response Gratifies Statesmen.

$1,000,000,000 ALREADY ACCOUNTED FOR.

H.K., Shanghai Bank Swells Total.

London, To-day.

The remarkable progress which has been made with the conversion of the 5 per cent. War Loan, was described by Chancellor of the Exchequer, Rt. Hon. Neville Chamberlain, yesterday, as splendidly encouraging. "My hopes are being realized," he said.

It is authoritatively estimated that including the holdings of the Loan by Government Departments, all of which will be converted, more than one-half of the huge total of £2,000,000,000 involved in the operation is already accounted for.

General Sir J. Seely, who is acting at the request of the Government as head of the appeal for Conversion, said the response had been far greater than they had dared to hope. All but a very small proportion of the 347,000 applications so far received by the Bank of England, and the 269,600 received by the Post Office, were for conversion.

Among many other big financial institutions, the Hong Kong and Shanghai Banking Corporation.

YOUNG CHINESE IMPRISONED.

Wore Too Many Clothes.

Sentence of two months' hard labour for theft was imposed by Mr. W. Schofield in the Central Police Court this morning on Wu Shu (22), said to be an ex-soldier from Swatow on his way to Canton.

Defendant tried to run away when an Indian Sergeant, B-107, halted him in Hennessy Road, Wanchai. When arrested, he was found to be wearing, besides his own clothing, four jackets, a pair of shorts and three pairs of long trousers. The clothing was traced to 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100.

EUROPEAN GAOLED ON OPIUM CHARGE

6 MONTHS SENTENCE $10,000 FINE

$28,000 DRUGS FOUND IN THREE TRUNKS.

REVENUE OFFICER TRICKED

G. A. CARTER, EX-SOLDIER, CAPTURED IN ST. FRANCIS HOTEL.

George Alexander Carter, 48, a seafaring man of Irish birth, ex-soldier and war veteran, was sentenced to six months' hard labour and a fine of $10,000, in default, an additional 6 months' imprisonment, when he appeared before Mr. Fraser in the Kowloon Magistracy to-day on a charge of having opium in his possession.

Carter, at the conclusion of the prosecution's case against him, was asked by His Worship if he wished to offer any defence.

"I have nothing to say," he said, shrugging his shoulders.

The Magistrate pointed out that the offence was particularly serious in that it involved a foreigner. It was necessary to deal severely with the accused.

The opium, which was discovered in three trunks which Carter was bringing ashore from a steamer, was valued by the Revenue Officers which seized it, at $28,800. They did not believe it belonged to Carter, however, and expressed the belief that the accused man was merely "a cat's paw."

The hearing commenced soon after the opening of Court this morning and was adjourned at 1.15 for a brief recess. At 2.30 o'clock, His Worship resumed the hearing. It did not take long, for Carter did not offer any defence of any sort, except to deny all knowledge of the contents of the three boxes in which the narcotics were found.

The sensational story of Carter's arrest was related by Revenue Officer J. W. Brown, who finally took the florid-faced seaman into custody when he discovered him in the bar of the Francis hotel, at 12.30 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

As he was coming off S.S. Kashima Maru, which was berthed at the Kowloon Godowns' No. 5 wharf, Carter was first accosted by Brown, that officer said in evidence. Carter was instructing coolies to remove three trunks. The officer requested that the boxes be taken to the Imports and Exports Office at the gateway. Carter accompanied the trunks and the officer.

Carter produced a screw driver and took the handles off a leather bag which contained the clothing. When asked to open the trunks, he suggested that he be allowed to return to the ship and secure the keys. He would not be more than an hour, he said, according to witness.

A Chinese Revenue Officer followed him, but Carter disappeared. A report was made to witness. The trunks were immediately broken open and the opium was discovered.

Jobless Since 1924. Carter, who spoke with an Irish brogue, has a reddish complexion, and wore an open-neck shirt in the dock. His last ship was the S.S. Hong Peng, and he has been unemployed since 1924, he said. The prosecution stated that Carter left Hong Kong on the S.S. Tarakuni Maru on June 24 for Singapore, but that he was not allowed to land there. He returned on the N.Y.K. ship, Kashima Maru. Revenue Officer Brown, in subsequent evidence, said that the defendant was charged at the Tsim Sha Tsui Police Station by Sub-Inspector Elston. A sextant, which the defendant claimed was in one of the boxes was not found.

Ownership Denied. Asked by the Magistrate if he had anything to say, Carter replied that he had never seen the boxes until he came to Hong Kong. They were not the same boxes as he had taken to Singapore. He added: "How could I know they contained opium. They might have contained arms or ammunition or dead bodies, for all I know."

Chinese Revenue Officer No. 7 stated that he had followed Carter to the Kowloon Hotel, crossing by ferry to the Hong Kong side. The defendant spoke of hiring a motor boat, but he finally walked to Lee Yuen Street. He then went to the second floor of 41 Queen's Road Central, and from there to the St. Francis Hotel, which place he left by the side door. He took a public motor car and in Garden Road eluded the detective who was following him.

Defendant denied the motor car incident, stating that he had not hired an automobile. S. I. Elston, in evidence, spoke of finding two medals in the waste-paper basket of the Charge Room. Both bore the name of Carter, and were allegedly discarded by the defendant. In his statement to the Police, when charged, Carter said: "I have been found in charge of this. I do not know whether it is opium or some kind of drugs."

"DAYBREAK"

Although he does not sing a note in the film "Daybreak," now showing at the Star Theatre, Ramon Novarro acts most naturally and with a real essence of humour. His leading lady is Helen Chandler, who was seen in "Dracula," and the pair are likeable.

Centering round the activities of young officers in an Austrian Army, the story tells of Novarro's breaking off his betrothal to a wealthy girl, and his love for a poor girl, who teaches music.

Many stars appear in the cast, including Jean Hersholt, C. Aubrey Smith, William Bakewell, Karen Morley, Kent Douglass and Glenn Tryon.

The programme also includes an excellent Charlie Chase comedy, entitled "Girl Shock."

OFFICIAL SOURCES.

"ONCE A GENTLEMAN."

James Cruze's latest talkie proves to all the world that he's equally at home directing light, merry and sparkling comedies as he is handling such stupendous dramatic productions as "The Covered Wagon" and "Old Ironsides." "Once A Gentleman," with Edward Everett Horton and Lois Wilson, opening on Monday at the Queen's Theatre, furnishes abundant entertainment for the entire family.

"ALMOST A DIVORCE."

Sydney Howard, our own Yorkshire comedian, has rapidly made a name for himself in British films. In "Almost A Divorce," which is now showing at the King's Theatre, his latest production, Sydney Howard again exploits to the full his excellent brand of humour. In this film he is not a Yorkshire mill-hand, but has the unpopular role of the hero husband's friend! His pal's wife can see no humour in Sydney Howard taking her husband (played with an excellent sense of comedy by Nelson Keys) continually away from her side and bringing him back suffering from a stagger in his walk and slightly muddled speech.

To the onlooker it is very funny indeed, and anyone who can watch Sydney Howard struggling to get into pyjamas after he has imbibed rather freely of the cup that cheers, and getting his arms into the trouser legs and his feet into the arms, without letting forth a hearty yell of laughter, certainly ought to see a doctor.

"DANCERS IN THE DARK."

More than fifty bottles of ginger ale and ten of grape juice were used on the set of Paramount's "Dancers in the Dark," a dance romance which features Miriam Hopkins, Jack Oakie, William Collier, Jr., Eugene Pallette and Lyda Roberti.

More than 1,000,000 cigarettes were smoked in night club scenes, drawing rooms and other settings during the year 1931 at Hollywood studios.

Nearly 200,000 cigarettes were consumed on the screen for Paramount films alone.

"Dancers in the Dark," is the coming feature picture of the King's Theatre for next Wednesday.

"HEAVEN ON EARTH."

Anita Louise in her role in "Heaven On Earth," the Universal wonderful drama, is appearing opposite Lew Ayres, at the Central Theatre to-day.

A frail, blonde beauty, almost ethereal in her loveliness, the youthful Anita is seen throughout the picture as a "white trash" child of the South living among the shiftless "shanty-boaters" of the Mississippi River, and clad in a tattered dress rudely fashioned from sack. Her greatest treasure is a necklace formed of several safety pins looped together.

Just the same, this slip of a girl who is playing her first grown-up role, is the screen's successor to Lillian Gish. She has been on the screen in "kid" parts for ten years.

LAURA GUERITE.

The following is from the Shanghai Times:—

"To hear that famous comedienne, Laura Guerite, now at the Little Club, sing 'My Canary Has Circles Under Its Eyes,' is as good a treat as diner, dancer, or dilettante may ever hope for.

"Not much more than a decade ago the name of Guerite, as every one knows, was one to conjure with in the theatre. Honourable Mrs.
H. M. Craig has robbed her of some of the verve and clever style that made her the much-toasted comedy queen of New York and London.

"Filling a month's exclusive engagement at the Little Club, the spontaneous and witty actress is bringing the house down every night with her character sketches and original lyrics.

"Wearing a gorgeous pyjama ensemble of chatreuse and silver cloth, she is telling in one of her new songs this week about
"Smith, Robinson, Jones and Brown" and at the same time is proving the fashionable flair for dining and dancing pyjamas. To her hold-over numbers, she has added another exuberantly funny song, "Don't have Any More, Mrs.
Moore."

BASEBALL.

SOUTH CHINA BEAT LINGNAM.

Winter Fong Makes An Early Impression.

PANG LEADS HITTERS.

[By the Kid.]

South China showed no mercy to Lingnam University by walloping them yesterday by 11 to 4 in a baseball game at Caroline Hill yesterday. Although South China did not play up to expectations, they were good enough to teach their younger rivals some baseball.

Winter Fong, pitching for the Canton students, was a puzzle for the first five innings, giving South China just two runs and striking out such hitters as Matty Chang and Tommy Chan. His puzzles did not last long, however, for when the Southerners got to him in the sixth, there was no stopping them, as Matty Chang's boys made nine runs in the last four innings.

Taft Fong, making his first appearance on the mound, was relieved by Ed. Chang in the second innings after the students showed signs of heavy hitting. Ed. Chang did well, holding the students in check during the remainder of the game.

Poor Base Running.

South China drew first blood, when they scored in the first inning. Ed. Chang, after hitting safely, galloped around the bases and then scored when Catcher Bill Kam let one of Winter Fong's fast ones go by. This lead was short-lived, however, for the Lingnam boys came right back and scored two runs to take the lead. Pang hit one for a three-bagger and later scored when Ken Lee hit safely. Winter Fong then hit one of Taft's fast ones for a two-bagger, to chase in Ken Lee. Lingnam had several chances in the second and third innings to score, but poor base running spoiled their chances.

Local Team Lead.

South China scored one more in the fourth innings to tie the count, and in the sixth innings pushed in two runs to take the lead, which was never challenged. In the seventh innings, South China crossed the plate three times, practically given to them by three errors and three misplays by the Lingnam players.

Freak Homer.

Lingnam, after being held scoreless for six consecutive innings, began the fireworks in the ninth. Pang started by slamming the ball for a freak homer, the ball rolling under the grandstands in leftfield. Kenny Lee then hit safely for the third time and tallied, when Pau Ka-ping let Winter Fong's hard drive go through his legs. Ed. Chang then settled down and finished the side in quick order.

Pang was the hitting star of the day, hitting safely three times, a homer, a three-bagger and a single in four times to the plate. Kenny Lee hit safely three times in five trips to the plate. Warren Chang was the outstanding fielder for Lingnam, making several impossible catches, thereby saving his team from losing by a larger margin.

RACING.

THE KING'S VICTORY AT ASCOT

CROWD'S FRENZIED ENTHUSIASM RUSH TO CHEER THEIR MAJESTIES

STIRRING CLIMAX TO BRILLIANT WEEK.

A memorable Ascot, historic for the quality of its racing and unsurpassed in the brilliance of its weather, reached an unforgettable climax on June 17 when the King's horse, Limelight, won the Jersey Stakes.

Astonishing scenes of enthusiasm followed his Majesty's victory. A mass of people, cheering, shouting, and waving silk hats, rushed from the Royal enclosure to the unsaddling stall.

Through them walked the King and Queen, his Majesty's face wreathed in smiles, to congratulate Limelight's trainer, W. Jarvis, and the jockey, Joe Childs.

Rarely in the history of the "sport of Kings" has there been a more popular victory, or a warmer display of enthusiasm. Racegoers of long experience declared that the scenes were unparalleled in the history of Royal Ascot.

The totalisator set up another record. Its turnover for the four days exceeded £250,000—the greatest sum ever invested in the "tote" at a British meeting.

Dignity Lost in Joy.

Ascot, June 17. The scene that followed Limelight's victory to-day left no doubt about the immense affection felt by the British public for the King and Queen. The memory of it will long be treasured by all who were privileged to take part in it.

Limelight's success came in no sense as a surprise. It had been awaited with the utmost confidence. The three-year-old colt was held in high esteem—he was even regarded as the best of his age, which means that he is better than the Derby winner.

Great expectations, therefore, meant that everyone was prepared to take part in the occasion, which broke out long before the colt had reached the winning post.

Even before the judge had had time to approve the showing of Limelight's number in the frame there was a stampede from all quarters to the unsaddling enclosure. Dignity in the Royal Enclosure was forgotten as its occupants joined in the stampede, running as if they were seeking shelter from a sudden storm.

Then, before the colt could be walked back and steered by Joe Childs through the dense crowd between the entrance from the course and the unsaddling enclosure, the King and Queen, accompanied by the Prince of Wales and other members of the Royal family, were seen to be approaching.

It was, indeed, a stirring sight to see the King and Queen, without escort, moving through the crowd, acknowledging the hand-clapping and cheers from the thousands who, in their enthusiasm, had thrown aside all decorum. Viscount Churchill and Brig.-Gen. Tomkinson (manager of the King's races) found a place for them overlooking the tiny enclosure. As they watched the unsaddling, the Earl of Derby came up and, especially in his capacity as owner of the second horse, Giudecca, offered his loyal and sincere congratulations.

Best Three-Year-Old.

I can recall no more moving scene on a racecourse. The last time I can remember their Majesties leaving their box was a few years ago, when the King's two-year-old filly, Aloysia won the Queen Mary Stakes.

Some time after Limelight had left for his stable, his trainer, W. R. Jarvis, and his jockey, Childs, were conducted to the Royal box, again to receive the congratulations and thanks of their Majesties.

There is next to nothing to say about the actual race. Limelight, indeed, may have had little to beat. Firdausi, who might have been among his opponents, had been ex-

HOTCHKIN HOLDS RECORD IN ETON V. HARROW SERIES.

Nearly Secures Second Record In Drawn Game.

London, Saturday. The 103rd match between Eton and Harrow at Lord's was left drawn.

N. S. Hotchkinn established a new record for the series of matches by scoring 109 in Eton's first innings. Last year at Lord's he knocked out 153. He is now the only batsman to have scored a century on two occasions in the series of matches. In the second innings he had the misfortune to be dismissed when 4 runs short of a second record.

Scores as cabled by Reuter were as follow:—
Eton: 233 (N. S. Hotchkinn 109);
216 for 5 (N. S. Hotchkinn 96).
Harrow: 349 (R. Fulbrook 104, L. Turnbull 5 for 75).

Of the 103 matches played, Eton have won 42, Harrow 35, and 26 have been left drawn. Last year Eton won by an innings and 16 runs.

FOOTBALL.

ANDY WILSON FINDS IDEAL JOB

PROFESSIONAL FOOTBALL IN FRANCE

A CLUB TO DO AS HE LIKES WITH.

"I have got the job of my life, and it is possible I shall never again be connected with English football."

On August 14, Andy Wilson, ex-captain of Scotland, for six years captain of Chelsea, and one of the outstanding figures of British football, leaves for France, where, in his own words, he is going "to make the Nimes club into a real football team."

Andy's post must be peculiar. He has been made manager, captain, and trainer-coach of the club, and, more important still, he has been given a free hand.

"I am to model the team as I know from practical experience it should be moulded," he said to a London newspaper, "and I am not dependent on the whim of theoretical and paper experts among directors who have never kicked a football in their lives."

Wilson speaks highly of conditions in France. He went out earlier this year to the Nimes Club with Alex Cheyne and Harold Ward, to test them.

"The whole town was at the station to welcome us," he said. "They drove us to the best hotel and put us up there. They let us do what we liked with the team, and the team soaked up instruction as a sponge soaks up water."

"Directors and everybody helped. They made me an offer. I cabled to Squibs (his wife), 'Shall I take it and will you come?' She cabled back, 'Yes, and I'll bring the boys too.'"

"I showed the directors that cable, and within two hours they had found me the best flat I ever hope to live in, and had booked it for me, too—a garden of rose trees that bloom all the year round and a beautiful cherry tree just outside the windows."

And, as though this is not enough, they propose to build a golf course on the race-course because there was not one in the town and because Wilson and Cheyne are good players.

Their Quaint Ideas:
And football?

"They're great: about the standard of the Spartan or Isthmian leagues. But they know nothing about defence—as defence. All their defence is attack. Hence you get huge scores."

"They're funny, too. All the forwards always stick together in line. They never think of going back, individually, to 'cover' up. It is quite usual to see a winger leaning up against the railings or a centre sitting down when the ball doesn't look like coming his way for a bit."

"Shoot!" They Shout.

"Then shooting. The crowd loves you to shoot. Never mind whether you score or not."

"Cheyne one day beat two men, shot from about 18 yards, and the ball went about five yards wide. And they yelled themselves hoarse with enthusiasm. In England he would have been given the bird for that."

"One day I scored four goals in a match. They went wild with delight, and when I shot from about 30 yards away they thought I was a marvel. It's a delight to play in France."

"But make no mistake about it—these men have football in them. They just want some of the finer points, that's all."

"Already, after the three games we've had with them, they've improved 50 per cent., and when we have had another three months with them, they will be a wonderful team."

Why He Went.

Really this post of Andy Wilson's is quite a family affair, and Mrs. Wilson must take her share of the credit.

It was in January, when Andy was with the Queen's Park Club, that the Nimes Sporting Club approached him. Andy said "No."

Then the Queen's Park Club put him on the transfer list.

"There he was," said Mrs. Wilson, "virtually out of work, with £1,000 on his head in a time when clubs have no money, and a growing family to bring up."

"Andy has always had an ambition to take a young and unknown club and train it from the bottom. Here was his chance."

"He asked me whether he should take it. 'Don't be a fool' I said, 'of course you should. It's the chance you've been looking for. Go and see the job, and then make up your mind.' So he went, and now we're all going."

"And," supplemented Andy, "if this job had come ten years ago I should have taken it. It's my ideal."

LUZ GIVES RECREIO VICTORY.

Kowloon C.C. Lose After Holding Lead.

SPEY ROYAL CUP GAME.

[By Straight Wood.]

The first match of the Spey Royal Cup competition was played at the Kowloon Bowling Green yesterday afternoon and resulted in a win for the Club de Recreio team by the narrow margin of three shots, the scores being 21 to 18.

The Recreio were lying three shots on the first head, but McTavish carried the jack with a great shot and his side lay five when the ships went down. Fraser was not called on to do much, except to be obstructive, but he failed to put one in the way of Luz, who with a perfect wood drew the second shot. The same player also drew a shot on the next head when his side was already lying one. McTavish was again in the limelight on the fifth head, carrying the jack to lie three, but Luz ditched the jack and secured one shot—and well worth it.

Luz Scores Three.

On the seventh head Gutierrez drew the first shot, Gomes put another one, and Luz cut out the third shot to score three. Six all. The Kowloon Cricket Club took one on the next head, but on the ninth, Luz, who was playing a splendid game, carried the objective to register a Bonny three.

The Recreio scored two on each of the next two heads to total 18, against 7, Luz in one case getting the second shot through a lucky wick. Then the cricketers took a turn with three two's in succession, Fraser getting a beautiful second shot on the fourteenth head, in which Luz just missed with his drive. A nice head was then built up with Recreio lying two shots when Fraser played. He was, however, unable to dislodge them with either of his woods and Luz put his second wood right on the jack—a pretty shot.

K.C.C. Lead at Sixteenth.

The Portuguese were outbowed on the next head; the K.C.C. were lying a very good four when Luz was unlucky to give them a fifth shot.

At the sixteenth head the cricketers led by 18-16 and the game was getting exciting with five heads to go. Gittins, right at the top of his form, put one on top of the jack, only to be pushed through by Gomes whose wood remained good. The Recreio got another single at the next head—18—all at the eighteenth. McTavish was called upon to drive at the next head and laid one for his side, which Luz, with a pound on, promptly took out to score one. It was a brilliant shot. Gittins lay at the twentieth head but McTavish, in putting the second shot in, uncovered the jack and Luz once more seized his opportunity to draw one.

The score was now 20-18 in favour of the Portuguese and the last head fluctuated continually, neither side laying more than one at any time. The Recreio, however, just received the necessary shot to go out at 21-18.

Scores:—

K.C.C.		Recreio
H. Gittins	1	L. A. Gutierrez	1
F. Goodwin	1	A. S. Gomes	1
H. M. McTavish	1	C. G. Silva	1
J. Fraser	1	R. F. Luz	1

Luz In Brilliant Form.

For the Portuguese side Luz was undoubtedly the outstanding player, and he saved his side time and again. Gittins was consistently good and had the better of Gutierrez, but Goodwin was off form, and Gomes, though not good, evened things up as regards the first and second players. McTavish was good, very good in fact, but seemed to go off slightly towards the end which coincided with Silva's improvement. The latter was never weak, but he found his opposite number in Gittins' form. Fraser was only moderate and never seemed to be able to settle down. The watch was a good exhibition of bowls and well worth seeing and the fair crowd of supporters were not disappointed.

The last match in this competition, taking place on Wednesday afternoon at the Kowloon Cricket Club when the Yacht Club play the Kowloon Docks at 4.30 p.m.

Lausanne's Effect On Britain.

As the beginning of a new system of international co-operation, the Lausanne Conference has paved the way for future negotiation which should lead to some definite and real accomplishment. The principal success at Lausanne is that the diplomats reached an agreement and that reparations are abolished, even though Germany has still to make a payment of 3,000,000,000 marks towards a Reconstruction Fund. If this preliminary work is continued and if the same spirit is shown at the forthcoming World Economic Conference progress towards world recovery will indeed be made, but in the meantime the outstanding fact is that there is now reason for greater hope while the prospects of ultimate success are now considerably brighter. The enthusiastic reception of the Agreement in London would indicate that more details are known in England than are apparent from the cables received here, and that those details must contain satisfactory factors for Britain. For on the face of the news cabled here, Britain has sacrificed the £30,000,000, to £35,000,000 which she received annually in reparations while no arrangement has yet been made with the United States for any cancellation or reduction of the corresponding amount paid to America. Formerly Britain neither gained or lost on reparations and war debts, merely paying out what was received. Now it is possible that Britain may once again carry the world's burden and the British taxpayer may be asked to pay the price for the world's recovery. Unless America cancels her debts, and immediately supply divided on the matter in the United States the position from Britain's viewpoint is extremely unsatisfactory. The situation is, however, not as bleak as it appears. It remains to be seen whether the Lausanne agreement will be a single stroke. That Germany possessed a grievance few will deny, but now that the oppressor which shackled the progress of Europe, a defeated nation, has been removed (partially, if not wholly) it remains to be seen whether the relief will be an anxious moment while the world waits to ascertain whether Germany is satisfied with "half-loaf." If not, Adolf Hitler will realize his ambition and with the Nazis in power the work of Lausanne will be undone by a single stroke. That Germany possessed a grievance few will deny, but now that the oppressor which shackled the progress of Europe, a defeated nation, has been removed (partially, if not wholly) it remains to be seen whether the relief will be an anxious moment while the world waits to ascertain whether Germany is satisfied with "half-loaf." If not, Adolf Hitler will realize his ambition and with the Nazis in power the work of Lausanne will be undone by a single stroke.

MacDonald and Mr. Chamberlain, however, indicates that some understanding on the question must exist and pessimism at this stage may be unfounded.

There is, however, ground for many misgivings. The political declaration stating that the signatories firmly intended to contribute to a new order which will allow the establishment and development of confidence between the nations in a mutual spirit of reconciliation, collaboration and justice sounds noble enough, but conflicts with actualities, even if hopes are held of better things to come. Undoubtedly the chief accomplishment is the cancellation of reparations, but after all that was inevitable, and it is disquieting to note that the cancellation was not made without conditions. It might better be termed a reduction in reparations since Germany has still to find the sum of three milliards of marks. The slate was not wiped clean and recognition of this fact—which has not been given much prominence—lessens the effect of the world-inspiring statements by the delegates. The cables state that France has congratulated her Premier on making the best of a bad bargain, and that the reception of the news from Lausanne was far from joyous, it being claimed that France has given up much and received nothing. On the other hand Germany is divided, the Moderates being thankful for the relief given and the Nationalists being furious with Herr Von Papen for abandoning the political demands. As the German elections take place at the end of the month this "fury" may be attended with disastrous consequences and it will be an anxious moment while the world waits to ascertain whether Germany is satisfied with "half-loaf." If not, Adolf Hitler will realize his ambition and with the Nazis in power the work of Lausanne will be undone by a single stroke. That Germany possessed a grievance few will deny, but now that the oppressor which shackled the progress of Europe, a defeated nation, has been removed (partially, if not wholly) it remains to be seen whether the relief will be an anxious moment while the world waits to ascertain whether Germany is satisfied with "half-loaf." History of the Hong Kong Chinese Club

[The Editor, "China Mail."] Dear Sir,—I hope you and your Chinese and foreign readers find the enclosed letter interesting. Tse Tsan Tai.

Hong Kong, 9th July, 1932.
The Secretary,
The Hongkong Chinese Club,
No. 6, Des Voeux Road Central,
Hong Kong.

Dear Sir,—I notice in the "Tsau Wan Yat Po" and other local Chinese newspapers of the 18th October, 1930 that my old friend Sir Robert Ho Tung has made mention of my name in his speech, when referring to the founders of the Hongkong Chinese Club, at the meeting which was held on the 10th October, 1930 in celebration of the anniversary of the Chinese Republic.

Being advanced in years, and since time waits for no man, I believe it is now my duty, after 38 years silence, to publish the facts connected with the history of the founding of the Hongkong Chinese Club for the information of its members and the Chinese Community of this Colony.

In January 1898, Mr. Tse Tsan Tai issued a circular advocating the formation of a Chinese Library and Reading Room to be used as a Social Club. One of the objects was—"To encourage special intercourse between Chinese and Europeans." (See local newspapers—English).

A Working Committee of over fifty leading gentlemen of the Colony actively canvassed for members and financial support. Owing to lack of financial support, the Library movement was shelved, and it was decided to push on with the Social Club. See List of promoters (Enc. No. 1).

In August 1898, Mr. Tse Tsan Tai discussed with Messrs. Leung Lan Fan, Mok Man Cheung and Ng Kwai Shing the importance of establishing a representative Club for the Chinese in the Colony to be called The Hongkong Chinese Club.

On the 26th August, 1898, Mr. Tse Tsan Tai discussed the matter with Mr. Cheung Tsoi, and a definite plan of campaign was decided upon. See Mr. Cheung Tsoi's letter of 26/8/98 to Mr. Tse Tsan Tai (Enc. No. 2). See "A well-wisher's" letter in the "Hongkong Daily Press" of 8/11/98 (Enc. No. 3).

The first meeting of the Promoters was held at No. 95, Praya Central, the Office of the Kaitung Mining Co., on 10th September, 1898, at 8.45 p.m. There were present:—Messrs. Tse Tsan Tai, Cheung Tsoi, Leung Lan Fan, Luk Ming Po, Lo Tat and Li Hong Mi. (See Mr. Tse Tsan Tai's circular letter dated 17/9/98).

On the 25th October, 1898, permission was obtained from Mr. G. H. B. Wright, D.S., to hold a meeting of the members in the Hall of Queen's College.

The following were elected members of the "First Committee": Messrs. Tse Tsan Tai, Lo U Sing, Luk King Fo, Chow Kam Wing, Chan Wei Son and Cheung Lai Pan. Mr. Li Hong Mi (Chairman). Mr. Ng Kwai Shing (Vice Chairman).

Mr. Cheung Tsoi (Secretary). Mr. Wong Hoi Pang (Treasurer). This Committee held office until the 14th January, 1899, when a new Committee was elected for the year 1899.

See Report of this meeting (Enc. No. 4). See Mr. Tse Tsan Tai's letter of thanks to Dr. Wright (Enc. No. 5). See 2nd letter of 14/11/98 from Mr. Cheung Tsoi (Enc. No. 6). See Mr. Tse Tsan Tai's letter to Hon. Mr. Ho Kai dated 24/12/98 (Enc. No. 7).

See note from Mr. Claude Ley Kum dated 26/12/98, intimating Mr. Ho Tung's wish to see Mr. Tse Tsan Tai (Enc. No. 8). See Mr. Tse Tsan Tai's letter to Mr. Ho Tung dated 27/12/98 (Enc. No. 9). See Mr. Ho Tung's letter of 27/12/98 to Mr. Tse Tsan Tai, assuming him of his support (Enc. No. 8).

Emancipation Creeps Into India Restraint Of Purdah Vanishing STRIKING CHANGES

NATIONALIST MOVEMENT PLAYS A PART.

For hundreds of years Indian women have been held in the most complete subjection.

Heavily bound by custom, largely religious, it has seemed that their thralldom had settled into heavy permanence, one of those massively dreary, apparently inescapable facts about India.

Suddenly change is coming. In our day, writes Frieda Hauswirth (Mrs. Saranghadar Das), in a book published recently,

"the very foundations of the ancient customs most deleterious to Indian women's interests have received the rudest shaking. The Unchanging East is no more. Age-old walls are crumbling rapidly towards final dissolution. The most promising sign of all is the wholesale disappearance of purdah and the sound beginning made towards the abolition of child-marriage, the two most far-reaching evils."

So profound a change, striking at the roots of the social system of a country of 350,000,000, is a matter of world interest.

Change Apparent. The impact of the Nationalist movement has played its part in emancipation. Even the transient visitor to India will see things happening—the result of this influence—that a few years ago would have been considered absolutely impossible, the mere suggestion of which would have caused outraged horror among strict Hindus.

One sees delicately nurtured Hindu women of the highest estate and culture, who until recently never emerged from the zenana, taking part in such activities as picketing shops in rough districts, with a kind of insistent boldness. Obstinate and defiant, these women of good family, clad in gorgeous saris, will remain at the doors of shops as pickets until they are arrested.

Such a thing as recently as, say, 1920 would have been utterly unthinkable. Gandhi has had the astuteness to appeal to the ideal of service—service to the Great Mother India. So it comes about that women, suppressed, almost imprisoned, for centuries are willing to emerge to such deeds as public demonstrations, boycotts, picketing, and hurly-burlys with the police.

Women vs. Priests. In essence the struggle for freedom has been between the women and the priests.

The women have definitely rebelled against the Brahmin caste edicts, caste distinctions, communal divisions, polygamy, purdah, child-marriage, and sex-discrimination, and are in favour of compulsory free education for both boys and girls, of equal inheritance rights, and divorce.

Frieda Hauswirth married a Hindu, and has herself lived the life which she describes with dispassionate completeness. She has moreover, had detailed accounts of their experiences from many Indian women, and can thus paint an unhappy picture of the zenana system, first adopted by the Hindus as a protection after the Moslem invasion.

Writing of girls of 12 to 15 years of age, where the difference in age between husband and wife is less than 10 years, she says:—"generally the first weeks and months had been passed by these brides in the husband's home in passionate homesickness, an intense feeling of for-

June, 1899, where numerous Chinese and Foreign notabilities and visitors have been welcomed and entertained.

It is most gratifying to be informed that the Club has now a Building Fund, amounting to the handsome total of over £200,000.00, and the membership has increased from 88 to 700.

Please accept my warmest congratulations. Hoping that the Hongkong Chinese Club will soon be able to own and conduct a new premises, and with best wishes for the continued success and prosperity of the Club and its members.

Yours sincerely,
Tse Tsan Tai.

lornness, bewildered shyness, and agonised self-consciousness. The child-wife never opened her mouth save to answer a direct question, and then twisted in discomfort if it had to be more than a mere yes or no.

If Mrs. Das is right in her estimate of the strength of her movement, then the next sixty years should see the beginnings of a New India, in which the old tabus will have gone for ever.

NO PENNY POST FOR MELBOURNE.

Melbourne, June 1. Commenting upon the decision of the New Zealand Government to revert to penny postage, the Director of Postal Services, Mr. H. P. Brown, said that much longer distances had to be covered in transporting mail in Australia, thus making the service more expensive. The postal revenue for the present year would amount to about £5,115,000. If penny postage was introduced the loss in revenue would probably be about £1,000,000. The present mail rates, however, are not to be contemplated.

Guests Throng to Big Reception.

A wedding of great social interest to the Chinese community was solemnised in St. Paul's Church on Saturday afternoon, when Cissy To, a student of St. Stephen's Girls' College, and sixth daughter of Mr. Jackson To, Manager of Wing On Co., Ltd., became the bride of Mr. Marseland S. L. Ma, treasurer of the Sincere Company, Ltd., Hong Kong, and eighth son of Mr. Ma Ying-pui, Managing Director of Sincere Company.

The Rev. Tsoi See-fong officiated at the ceremony, being assisted by the Rev. Lee Kau-yun. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked charming in a dress of white lace, with a veil of orange blossom colour. She carried a bouquet of ginger lilies. The Misses Alma To, May Lee and Margee Kwok, as bridesmaids, wore dresses of purple georgette, light orange georgette and peach georgette, respectively, in Chinese and foreign styles. Their bouquets were of gladioli.

Colourful Ceremony.

As flower girl, Miss Jennie To, was dressed in pink georgette, carrying a basket of roses. The page boy, Master To Kwan-wing, wore a costume of white and sky blue crepe-de-chine of Western style.

The Matron of Honour was Miss Annie Ma, who was gowned in green georgette, in Chinese and foreign style. The bride's mother attended in Chinese ceremonial attire.

Mr. Ronald Ma discharged the duties of best man, while the groomsmen were Messrs. William Ng, Lau Iu-ping and Lam Chik-suen.

Throng of Guests.

About 600 guests thronged the roof garden for the reception, which was formally opened on arrival of the bride, after a string of crackers, lasting twenty minutes, had been fired.

Among those present were Mr. Tong Siu-ye, a Director on the Board of Administration of the Chung Shun Model district; Mr. Ma Ying-pui, father of the bridegroom, and the first Chinese permanent director of the Lingnam University; Dr. Cheng Wing-kong, President of the Lingnam University; Mr. Chan Lim-pak, Chairman of the Tung Wah Hospital, of which the bridegroom's brother, Mr. Ma Man-fai, is a fellow director; the Hon. Dr. R. H. Kotewall, C.M.G., LL.D., the Hon. Mr. T. N. Chau, Messrs. Ho Kwong, Kwok Siu-lau, Ngau Shing-kwan, and Lee Yick-mul, president of the Chinese General Chamber of Commerce.

The bride's gift to the groom was a pair of jade cuff links and a gold watch, whilst that of the groom to the bride was a diamond platinum ring, a diamond bracelet and a diamond platinum wrist watch.

SHANGHAI FORESEES DOOM OF TAI

HASTY ACTION OPPOSED

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Shanghai, Yesterday. A stiff battle between native bankers and the modern Chinese institutions over the question of the abolition of the tael currency, is foreseen here. Well-informed financial authorities believe the tael is doomed and predict its abolition will become effective on August 1.

The movement to abolish the dual currency, in favour of the dollar, is gathering momentum rapidly. Although the native bankers generally approved the plan at the outset, a strong section of bankers resolutely opposes the proposed change, contending hasty action may react against the money market and precipitate grave and unforeseen financial problems.

The movement, however, is strongly supported by the Finance Ministry at Nanking, by foreign banks and firms, and by the majority of the Chinese banks of a more modern tendency.

LABOUR DISTURBANCE IN SHANGHAI

POLICE GUARD AGAINST VIOLENT ACTS

THOUSANDS QUIT JOBS

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Shanghai, Yesterday.

There has been a sudden recrudescence, of labour restlessness in Nantao district, following the French tramways "go slow strike." Disturbing rumours of others joining the tramway strikers in sympathy and a general walk-out of workers in all manner of industries, fly about the settlement.

So far as the French Concession tramway situation is concerned, the cars are operating fairly normally, although there are 700 mechanics away from work. The workers' demands have been rejected in Nantao and in consequence there is a certain added tenseness felt. There are many hundreds on strike there.

The striking element of the silk filatures and medicine shops are still in deadlock with their employers. Their factories and shops in Chapel are closed and deserted, but under heavy police guard. Thus far there has been no sabotage.

Chinese school teachers, too, are restive. They have submitted a series of demands for the consideration of the board of Education.

Although the tramway trouble in Nantao was originally quite an independent affair, it appears to have set fire in other directions. The main reason for the trouble among these employees is that the workers are insisting upon the release of Hsuan-mei, an ex-committeeman and member of their union, who is now serving a ten year sentence for spreading communist propaganda.

JAPANESE POLITICAL TROUBLES

Appointment of S.M.R. President.

ARAKI OBJECTS

Saito Cabinet Split Feared.

Tokyo, Saturday.

It is reliably reported that there are differences of opinion among Cabinet Ministers over the selection of the new President of the Manchuria Railway and that serious developments may follow.

Mr. Nagai, Minister for Overseas Affairs and the Premier, Viscount Saito informally announced yesterday the appointment of Mr. Chuji Kajiwara, a banker, as President, but the War Minister, General Araki, is stated to have expressed his definite opposition, recommending that General Yoshida, who is now on the retired list, could be given the position instead of Mr. Kajiwara.

It is further stated that there is a possibility of Cabinet resignations, as this is not the first time a quarrel over the appointments of General officials since the Saito Ministry was formed last May. — Reuter.

were found secreted in some rocks on which was a masonic mark. The value of the find is over $12,000. It is believed that it formed part of a pirate's hoard. Mr. Fitzgerald, who was released immediately after the discovery, will receive one third of the treasure, as the rest, under the law of treasure trove, falls to the Crown. Despite the crew's big find, old Frank never dreams of leaving luck and we can't but say lucky fishermen!

ATTEMPTED MURDER IN KOWLOON.

Farmer Mercilessly
Assaulted.

WIFE RUNS FOR HELP.

Attacked by two assailants, one armed with a heavy iron bar and the other with a knife, Wong Hau, a middle-aged farmer, lies close to death to-day in the Kowloon Hospital. While those who actually assaulted him have not been found, two have been arrested and charged with instigating the crime.

Wong was set upon in the vicinity of the Hau Wong Temple. His wife, who was walking a little ahead, heard his cries. "Save life, save life," he called. She ran at once for help.

After she found an aunt, she sought police assistance. The Mongkok Tsiu Station immediately despatched men to the scene of the reported crime. They found Wong, terribly beaten and badly stabbed; but his attackers had vanished. The injured man was rushed to hospital.

Tang Mei-lun (29), store-keeper, and Wong Ngau (30), a brass-finisher, are in custody under suspicion of having instigated the assault.

It is doubtful whether Wong will recover.

Premier Ramsay MacDonald was given a tremendous ovation by his colleagues of the House of Commons and by a crowd of enthusiastic Londoners on his arrival at Victoria Station. He stepped from the train at 3.40 p.m. and went almost immediately to Buckingham Palace where he had an audience with the King at 5 o'clock.

Greeting For Premier.
Mr. MacDonald was accompanied by the British Ambassador, Lord Tyrrell, on his journey from Paris to Boulogne, and the Mayor of Folkestone welcomed him in presence of a large crowd as he came ashore.

A crowd estimated at 5,000 thronged the approaches to Victoria Station to greet the Prime Minister in London. He was welcomed on behalf of the King by Sir Clive Wigram.

Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin, acting Prime Minister, and other members of the Cabinet, then extended their greetings, warmly congratulating him on the success of the Conference.

Responding to the cheers of the crowd, the Prime Minister said: "I am very glad to get back after a strenuous endeavour on behalf of a most admirable cause. I had splendid colleagues. I hope it will be the beginning of confidence, hope, and good, honest, hard work."

Cheering continued as the Prime Minister drove away, and another large crowd, which had assembled in Downing Street, gave him a great welcome when he reached his official residence.

Visits the King.
Soon afterwards, the Prime Minister drove to Buckingham Palace where he was received in audience by the King, who, accompanied by the Prince of Wales and Prince George, is leaving to-morrow for Weymouth to see the Home Fleet manoeuvres.

Sir Thomas Hoarder, the Prime Minister's medical adviser, was at Folkestone to meet him, and travelled with him to London. Mr. Duke Elder, his oculist, awaited him at No. 10, Downing Street. They pointed out that in view of the tense and constant strain during the last four weeks, the effect of which was particularly apparent during the last three days of the Conference, a complete rest is essential until Tuesday when the Prime Minister will make his promised statement on Lausanne in the House of Commons. It is stated that his eyes have stood the strain of work admirably.

Large numbers of telegrams of congratulation have been received at No. 10, Downing Street from statesmen in all parts of the world.

The Prime Minister will leave London for Lissieux at the end of the week, it is expected. — British Wireless Service.
